Checking for Understanding and Responses

You Should Know

Checking for understanding	Responses indicating understanding	Responses indicating misunderstanding
• Do you understand what I'm saying? • Do you know what I mean? • Do you know what I'm talking about? • Does that make any sense? • Do you follow me? • Are you with me? • With me so far? • You know? • You see? • Right?	• I see what you're saying. • I see what you mean. • I know what you mean. • I know. • I understand what you're saying. • I'm with you. • I hear you. • I hear what you're saying.	• I don't get it. • I don't follow you. • I'm not sure I get your point. • I'm not sure I know what you mean.

MATERI INTI

Activity 7

Fill in the bubbles with the expressions provided in the box.

Clipart

Clipart

a. May I have your attention, please? I have an announcement for you all. This announcement is from the principal.

b. Attention, please. Please turn off your mobile phones during the seminar.

c. Look here. Just press this button to heat. You see?

d. Just move the pan back and forth quickly. Do you follow me?

e. Hey! Be quiet, please. Please do the test in silence.

f. Look! I think that's the building. Over there.

g. Excuse me, but please keep your voice down. This is the library.

h. Attention, customers! We have a young child who is looking for his mother in aisle 8.